

What Is A Regional College? Saanich Trustees Don't Want One Anyway

Just what is a regional college? college is an institution to give higher education (beyond the grade 12 level) in areas not close to universities. It may also serve for adult education and specialized night classes such as music and art. There may be many reasons for the establishment of a regional college for Saanich," said Mr. McLellan. "Nevertheless, there are also several reasons why we should pause before endorsing such a plan at the present time."

UNDECIDED

Mr. Lott said that teachers in this district have not decided whether they will support a regional college. Several reasons for opposing the establishment of a regional college in this area were offered by F. B. McLellan, schools superintendent.

FOR LITTLE LEAGUE

LOCAL YOUNGSTER MAY HAVE SET NEW RECORD

A 12-year-old baseball player from Deep Cove may have set a new Little League world's record.

Danny Hartshorne, 855 Clayton Road, struck out 17 batters in a single game recently while pitching for the Deep Cove Bombers of the Central and North Saanich Little League. His unlucky opponents were members of the Army and Navy Braves.

Local Little League officials have written to Little League world headquarters at Williamsport, Pennsylvania, to determine if this is a new world's record. They believe the old record is 15 strike-outs in a game.

They are hoping to have a reply to their letter in time for the annual Little League banquet to be held at Legion hall, Mills Road, at 6:30 p.m. this Friday, July 9.

By-law To Provide For All Schools

—Nearly $2 Million

Ratepayers of Saanich School District will go to the polls on Saturday, July 17, to decide the fate of the $1,855,000 school building by-law. Biggest sum of money ever proposed in the school district, it will provide for anticipated school needs for the next five years.

Of the near-$2 million total, $301,500 will be expended on the purchase of sites and development of existing properties. Slightly more than $200,000 will provide for future school sites, with the remainder devoted to development and expansion of properties on which schools already stand or for the immediate construction of a new school.

Major bite at the big apple is taken by construction costs. These amount to $1,221,800. Few schools in the district have been left out of the list. Majority of elementary schools will be expanded and in almost every instance a covered play area and activity room will be provided.

NEW FACILITIES

In the case of secondary schools, main theme of the by-law is an attempt to furnish the new facilities needed to offer projected vocational and technical courses.

Furnishings and equipment will take another $200,100, while plans and contingencies account for $132,000.

Board of trustees, through its first entry into the field of publication, has listed part of the project in the form of a series of sketches. A copy of "Board Business" has been circulated to every householder in the district.

Ratepayers are urged to support the by-law with the reminder that although the total sum of the by-law is nearly $2 million, the amount provided directly out of local taxation is only $463,800.

COST IS LOW

Chairman of the School District, A. G. Campbell reports that the cost to the taxpayer of the district in direct taxation is only one mill, or $1 per $1,000 assessment per year. Thus a house assessed at $10,000 would pay $10 per year, additionally.

Public meetings will be staged by trustees at North Saanich secondary school on Thursday evening, July 8, and at Mount Newton on Tuesday, July 13, at 8 p.m. on both days. The members of the board of trustees will outline detailed plans and they will invite questions from the audience.

Plans for different schools are listed below:

BEAVER LAKE

Activity room; covered play area, $37,800; extension of property, $5,000; furnishings and equipment, $4,650. Total $47,450.

BRENTWOOD

Increased property, $5,000 and provision for library facilities, $1,500; furnishing and equipment, $1,350. Total $7,850.

CORDOVA BAY

Extended property, $3,000; increased activity room and covered play area, $50,000; equipment, $3,050. Total $56,050.

DEEP COVE

Increased property, $3,000 and activity room, covered play area and augmented administration facilities, $56,700; furnishing and equipment, $5,800. Total $65,500.

DURRANCE

Site development, $2,500; one classroom, activity room, covered play area, library facilities and an extension to the administration area, $59,300; furnishing and equipment, $6,000. Total $67,800.

PICTORIAL COMMEMORATIVE

First Of Its Kind Price Is Two Salmon

By MARY BACKLUND

Galiano Island is the first island since Confederation to issue a Commemorative Pictorial.

This unique pictorial, designed and produced by George W. Sidders, a resident of Galiano Island, will be sold exclusively by the Galiano Lodge Gift Shop, on Galiano Island.

The first issue, which is already selling to collectors for $5 apiece, went to a few members of the B.C. Philatelic Society on June 20, but the first issue for public sale was placed in the Galiano Lodge Gift Shop on July 5.

Mr. Sidders has recently become interested again in the history of stamp collecting. He joined the B.C. Philatelic Society only two months ago, but he was an avid collector during the 1930's.

When World War II came along, he joined the Royal Canadian Artillery, soon being transferred to the Medical Corps, where he was chief instructor of remedial gymnastics for Canadian hospitals overseas. The main base at Alton, Hants, England.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidders came to Galiano to live quietly in 1959, in an attractive cottage by the sea, with a view of the always busy Active Pass, and Mount Baker in the distance.

"In order to save enough money to begin this venture," said Mr. Sidders, "I had to cut down on smoking and not play so much golf."

The "Couteurs de bois" were in no way connected with the postal service. They were "bush runners" who carried messages and packets from place to place. The results were questionable, for these adventurers finally became outlaws," explained Mr. Sidders.

That is why the Galiano pictorials commemorate this period of hardship and uncertainty for the settlers and business and personal communication.

"It was this unfavorable situation, having neither system nor control, that sparked enough complaints and pressures to mould, shape and create our excellent postal service of the present day," he told me.

He then showed me a cancellation cork, which is fashioned after the first ones used in England in 1840. It is actually made of cork, but he said it wouldn't print very well, so he fashioned another starfish design, and attached it to the other end of the cork!

With a gay laugh, he went off down the road back to his house, not worrying about all the fame he was assured of receiving; only absorbed in his new venture.

This man is indeed charming and modest; much credit must go to him for his ingenious idea to commemorate Galiano Island. This tiny island thus becomes one of the few islands in the world to have its own pictorial; such as that used on Lundy Island in the Bristol Channel, near England.

Brentwood Girl Off To Quebec

Miss Sylvia Fox, 15-year-old daughter of Mrs. Margaret Fox, Brentwood Bay, left last Tuesday, June 29, for Quebec City.

Miss Fox will be staying with a French-Canadian family, Mr. and Mrs. Le Bas, in Quebec, on a student council exchange program. The Brentwood girl has won two honors in local 4-11 competition, one for a dress and one for a pair of socks. These will be entered at the P.N.E. 4-11 display later this summer.

Sylvia was seen off on the train from Vancouver by her mother and Mrs. N. Ellison. She will return on August 5.

GAINS B.A. IN MUSIC AT BOSTON

Former Sidney student Robert M. Adamson has gained his bachelor's degree in music from the school of fine and applied arts of Boston University.

Mr. Adamson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adamson, of Yale St. in Victoria. His father is a member of the staff of the Dominion Experimental Station at Saanich.

Sidney Day Scenes As Parade Is Highlight

Girl Guides of Sidney accompany their decorated car in a mobile tableau as the parade through Sidney turns on to Fifth St. from Beacon. Parked cars along Beacon Ave. were a feature of the parade this year not seen in the past.

Holiday Is Sidney Holiday

Sidney became a true holiday town last Thursday as several thousand people poured into the village for the Dominion Day festivities.

A crowd estimated as the largest ever clapped, laughed, oohed and aahed as the grand parade wound its way from Sidney school through the town to the grounds of Sanscha hall to kick off the fun.

The smooth-running parade included entries of all types and sizes from all over the lower island and many veteran observers said it was without doubt the best yet.

PARADE PRIZES

Parade prizes were awarded to the following entries: best overall entry, Girl Guides of Canada, runner-up, R.C.A.F. Association; home-made float, Victoria Queen float and Sidney Queen float; best commercial float, Victoria Wax Museum, runner-up, Toronto-Dominion Bank; best service float, Unit 302, A.N.A.F. Veterans, runner-up, Job's Daughters; best unclassified float, Polish Club of Victoria, runner-up, Peninsula Players; best horse entry, Mrs. Colleen Hague and Ricky Bailey; children's prizes, 1, Laurie Langtry; 2, Darlene and Garry Puckett; 3, Paul Shade and Chris Flint.

ENTERTAINMENT

The large parade dispersed at Sanscha and Master of Ceremonies Frank Minns took over for the afternoon's entertainment which included pony rides and a train ride for the children and a musical show by Fred Usher and his entertainers. Bingo was in operation throughout the afternoon and a teen dance in the hall was popular with

SAILORS' PLAN COLLAPSES

No Bicycle For Kim!

★ ★ ★ ★ ★
You Just Don't Ride There!

- There is no bicycle for Kim.
- There is poverty and hunger and cold and wet and misery, but no bicycle.
- He couldn't have a bicycle where he lives. No one else has one and an 11-year-old boy could not carry a machine up to the roof. And that's where he lives.
- Kim is an energetic little dynamo with all the get-up-and-go of a small boy, but no bicycle.
- Kim lives in a hut of tar paper and canvas on the roof of a high building. He and his family are squatters, but Hong Kong is full of squatters. It has more people than space.
- Kim is like any one of hundreds of thousands of small boys in Hong Kong. Except that the Navy has taken an interest in him.
- Like Royal Canadian Navy units across the world, Patricia Bay Air Force's navy unit, VT 33 Squadron, adopted a boy some years ago. The boy was Kim.
- Like foster parents everywhere, the navy squadron wanted the best for its adopted ward... a bicycle. Until Lt. Cmdr. Geoff Hillard was in Hong Kong while serving in H.M.C.S. Saskatchewan and paid a call.
- "Spunky little fellow," wrote Geoff, who once directed the affairs of this same Patricia Bay unit, "very wily and full of self-confidence."
- But no bicycle.
- Kim has no love for school, but he is not unlike his Canadian counterparts in that respect.
- The navy men sent a cheque to pay for a bicycle. Geoff Hillard redirected the money to provide a waterproof roof for the boy's home, on the roof.
- Cost of a bicycle is two weeks' pay for Kim's father and boys just don't have bicycles in that part of the world.
- And there is a tragedy behind the life on the roof that is so near to tragedy itself.
- Kim's father is Li Cheung Wai, a respectable citizen of Hong Kong, who makes his living as an itinerant shoemaker. He was married once before. Until a shell exploded into his life and left him widowed, homeless and childless.
- Kim is one of his second family and Kim's mother has left them to their own resources.
- And with a life like that you just don't get to ride a bicycle... and if it were not for the Sidney sailors you might not have a life at all!

HOW DID RIVARD GET AWAY?

MAXIMUM SECURITY PRISONER

Driver Reviews Three Days In Cooler After Refusing To Pay Fine

What is it like to "serve time," even for a short time?

John M. Rivard, of 1600 Mar-ehant Road, Brentwood Bay, found out last week when he spent several days in jail rather than pay a $5 fine and costs for failing to stop at a stop sign. He has vehemently denied the charge and contends that two Sidney R.C.M.P. officers gave conflicting evidence when he appeared in court.

Following is Mr. Rivard's story of his experiences in the Sidney and Wellington Road jails.

At 8 p.m. on June 29, Corporal Vernon Williams of the R.C.M.P. called at my home in Brentwood Bay.

I invited this officer to enter, which he did and then produced a blue paper which he explained was a demand for a $5 fine, plus $1 costs, plus mileage of the R.C.M.P. I had done nothing to warrant a car with an alternative that I fine or imprisonment, but would would have to accompany him to accompany him as ordered. The R.C.M.P. headquarters at Sidney, spend the night there, and on the following morning he taken to Wellington Road Prison, where I was duly booked in. I was obliged to be incarcerated for two days.

It was explained that the period of the 29th up to midnight would constitute one day. I explained to Cpl. Williams that I was then escorted to the cell, which I entered, the door then being locked behind me.

MENTAL BOX

Looking around this room of approximately 14 by 10 feet I saw straight ahead a window with bars, to the left of the window a metal box of about seven by five feet, with a height of seven feet, no windows, and there was a door consisting of exceptionally strong steel bars, on equally formidable lock, and a lot of strong steel mesh to prevent anyone picking the lock.

TWO BUNKS

Inside this cell within a cell there were two bunks, one above the other. Each was of diamond stamped mesh steel, No. 9 gauge, slatted out of solid sheet; well able to withstand the impact of a charging tank. There were no mattresses or pillows; there were, however, two bunks.

"LILIES OF THE FIELD" COMES TO GEM

Film hailed as one of the gayest and most charming to come from Hollywood in recent years will be shown at the Gem Theatre in Sidney this Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings.

"Lilies of the Field" is an amusing and light-hearted story of an ex-G.I. on the loose who comes upon and assists a company of German immigrant nuns in building a chapel in the heart of the Arizona desert. Sidney Poitier received an academy "best actor" award for his portrayal of the former-soldier-turned-church-builder in the film. It is a film produced with none of the accustomed Hollywood trappings, yet it is wonderfully entertaining and one that will be remembered warmly for a long time.

On Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week, the Gem will present "Youngblood Hawke", the story of a young writer who rockets to fame overnight. Starred in the film are James Franciscus, Genevieve Page and Suzanne Pleshette. The film is taken from the book of the same name written by Herman Wouk.

The movie follows Youngblood Hawke from the small town where he writes a highly-acclaimed novel to New York and a series of literary and love affairs.

LIBRARY VOTE

And Confusion Of Plans

Many people in North Saanich seem to be confused about the library petition currently being circulated in the area, says Mrs. R. F. Thuillier, of Ardmore Drive. To clarify the picture, Mrs. Thuillier has summarized the plans of her committee and the story of library service as it is planned for the twin communities.

The Sidney and North Saanich

Berry Crop

Strawberry jam, anybody? It's a little late for shortcake. The young lady shown here is eating part of her harvest as she picks the berries at the McTavish Road farm of J. F. Rickard. She is Marilyn Livingston, of Weiler Ave., young daughter of Petty Officer and Mrs. C. Livingston. Pickers were mostly students, with a few adults helping out. Crop was not obviously affected by weather, although Mrs. Rickard could not hazard a guess as to the possible crop which might have been taken had there been no spring frost. Marilyn could not guess either. She just liked strawberries. Only the last of the harvest remains in some Saanich fields.

Library Committee, which is circulating the petition, consists of a group of people who are only interested in one thing and that is, getting good library service to the people of the area. The Vancouver Island Regional Library can give us this at the cost of .75 mill in North Saanich and a little more in Sidney. This is about the same as the cost of one book or magazine subscription.

They will provide a branch library in Sidney, a shut-in service and a film rental service with professional help in establishing adult education groups. The book collection will be constantly revitalized and there will be librarian service to give reference aid.

This service has nothing to do with the centennial project and if the voters vote for library service in this area, the Regional Library will supply it immediately, regardless of any project of the centennial committee.

Some peoples' taxes have risen a lot this year, we know, but remember that this is money spent for the benefit of every man, woman or child who can read. It is not catering to an isolated portion of the population.

After the honored guest had cut her birthday cake, she was presented with a gift of lingerie and a corsage. Invited guests were Mrs. G. Thomson, Mrs. A. McKarracher, Mrs. H. Straubel, Mrs. A. Stillwell, Mrs. W. F. Baillie, Mrs. A. Millar, Mrs. A. Stephens and Mrs. G. Swift.

Peggy McHattie was awarded the principal's prize for her outstanding academic achievements, contributions to school life, and citizenship.

Sports trophies and blue crests were awarded to: Pamela Tyler, junior girl; Dan Ponchet, junior boy; Peggy McHattie, senior girl; Gordon Keast, senior boy. These awards were made for the most points attained at the elementary schools' sports day at McTavish, where Durrance was the over-all winner.

SAFETY PATROL

Earlier, Sgt. T. Owen of the Saanich Police traffic detail, and S. Swetnam of the Kiwanis Club presented bronze pins to Mike Gelling, Rennie Anderson, Lorna McHattie, Marilyn Healey, Peggy McHattie, Mindy Sangha, Ross Darnell and Brian Vanderkracht of the Safety Patrol. This had been the patrol's first year of operation.

"Farewell" presentations in the form of "Durrance 1965" pennants were presented to the grade sevens. They were further honored by the grade sixes by being served refreshments.

The Home and School group presented Mr. Chow and Mrs. A. Fraser with desk pens and stands. Both are leaving the school. Mr. Chow has been appointed to Claremont senior secondary school and Mrs. Fraser, who will be leaving Saanich, also received commendation from the department of education for excellence in teaching.

CENTRAL SAANICH

CAMP AT SWEDEN

Guide Leader Off This Week For Nine-Week European Trip

By BILL CHATTERTON

A Brentwood Bay woman has finally had her wish for a trip to Europe come true, but in a totally unexpected manner.

Mrs. W. D. (Jeanie) Reith, of 6882 Wallace Drive, will sail for Montreal this week aboard the Cunard liner S.S. Carmania as one of three Canadian Girl Guide leaders who will attend a Swedish Girl Guides and Boy Scouts Association international camp.

The 10-day camp will be the highlight of a nine-week tour for the leaders and 23 Guides from across Canada.

ITINERARY

But the Canadians will not be travelling as the crew flies and their itinerary provides many opportunities to study languages and customs in a number of countries in addition to the experiences to be derived at the camp.

Before arriving at the international camp, the Canadian group will sail to Great Britain for a 10-day tour. After this they will leave for continental Europe.

First stop on the continent will be Rotterdam and they will travel through Holland, Denmark and Norway on their way to the camp in Sweden which will run from July 30 to August 9.

TWO FROM B.C.

Mrs. Reith said the camp will be attended by 150 guides from all over the world and she expects that about 25 per cent of the girls will be English speaking. During the 10 days, the girls will participate in folk dances, handicrafts, woodcraft, sports, pioneer, nature tracks and a variety of competitions. All of the guides attending this international camp will be between the ages of 15 and 17. Besides Mrs. Reith, two guides from the mainland of B.C. are included in the large Canadian party.

Mrs. Reith has never been to Europe. Scottish-born, she came over to this country some 20 years ago. An earlier plan to visit France was shattered by the outbreak of World War II and until now, she had never regained an opportunity to cross the English Channel.

BROAD SCOTCH

For the past several weeks she has been busy learning common phrases in various languages. She said that she had quite a bit of trouble with Swedish, "so I'm going to try speaking broad Scotch."

Mrs. Reith is very modest and admits she is not quite sure why she was chosen to accompany the Canadian guides as an assistant leader. But she has been associated with guiding for many years and is presently camp advisor for Saanich (North) Division and vice-chairman of the program committee for this province.

Of the many camps that she has attended, the one that has provided the nearest experience to an international camp was a national camp at Ottawa in 1952 which hosted visitors from many countries.

THRIFTY TRIP

Some of the expenses of the trip to Sweden will be met by contributions from guide associations at the national, provincial and local level, but the guides and leaders will be obliged to finance part of the trip. Therefore, said Mrs. Reith, there will be no nights spent at dollar-hungry hotels. The Canadians are planning to make use of the youth hostels during their tour and similar money-saving accommodations.

"This will keep us in closer touch with the people in the countries we will visit," Mrs. Reith said. "We hope to gain and bring back to others in Canada a greater understanding of guiding in other countries."

NEW EXPERIENCES

The girls and their leaders have been warned that they will experience many customs strange to them in their travels. This constitutes much of the purpose of the trip, however, and they have been advised to absorb as much as possible.

At the conclusion of the camp, the Canadians will be guests of indi-

LEGION ACES WIN TITLE

Drop Flyers Three Straight

Championship of the Central and North Saanich Little League was won easily this year by the Legion Aces.

The Aces handily defeated Central Saanich Flyers three games in a row during the past week to capture league honors.

In the first game of the finals, on Tuesday, June 29, the Aces dropped the Flyers, 15-1.

In the second game, on Friday, July 2, the Aces triumphed over the Central Saanich team, 19-8, and in what turned out to be the last game, played on Sunday afternoon, the Aces walloped their opponents, 21-2.

Pitchers for the Legion Aces in the deciding game were Gary Park and Jim Hawkings to Roy Herringcamp. On the mound for Central Saanich Flyers were Morgan Breitenbach, Bruce Tove and Ian Stewart, pitching to Wayne Heal and Buddy Scott.

Next big event in the lives of the young ballplayers will be the announcement of the all-star tournament team. Players for the tournament team have been selected and their names will be revealed at the Little League banquet to be held in the Legion Hall, Mills Road, on July 9 at 6:30 p.m.

Players named to this all-star team will meet a similar all-star team from the Esquimalt-Victoria West league on Tuesday, July 27, in the start of playoffs for the inter-league championship.

Three of these games, with teams from leagues as far north as Nanaimo, will be played at Sidney on July 29, 30 and 31. All three games will be played at the park adjacent to Sanscha Hall.

ALLOW MARGIN

Motorists should allow a driver towing a trailer plenty of room. He is handicapped by greater stopping distances, says the B.C. Automobile Association. Motorists should also remember that it takes greater clearance ahead to pass a car and trailer than it does just another automobile.

BRENTWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Rowe and children of Sept Iles, Quebec, are presently visiting with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Rowe, 836 Verdier Ave., Brentwood Bay. They also visited Mrs. Rowe's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Gilman, of Duncan, formerly of Sidney. Mr. Rowe is a pilot with a mining company.

Mrs. E. E. Brown of Essex, Ont., and her grandson, Ron Matlack, are visitors at the home of Captain and Mrs. W. E. Willisroff, Verdier Ave. Also visiting at the Willisroff home are Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Willisroff, of Burnaby.

PROSPECT LAKE SCHOOL AWARDS ARE MADE FOR YEAR

By MAVIS EDWARDS

On June 22, Prospect Lake School held the school picnic at Beaver Lake Park. Sporting events were held for pupils, a softball game played between pupils, staff and parents and a short swimming session was enjoyed or endured by those brave enough to face the chilly water on such a dull day.

Treats were distributed by the staff to all the children on behalf of the Home School Association.

The presentation of awards resulted in the junior sports trophy going to grade four student Stephen Iverson, and girls' junior sports trophy to grade four student Sandra Swann.

Marion Hunter and Freddie King carried off the senior sports trophies, both are grade five students.

Winner of the beautiful perpetual sports trophy, named the McDonald Trophy for its donors, Mr. and Mrs. Albert McDonald, was Debbie Sanford. Debbie won this for her performance at the inter-school sports held in May.

The school sportsmanship award also went to Debbie Sanford, a grade six student.

The Citizenship Cup for Division 3 was won by grade two student Joe Moran, for Division 2 by grade four student Lynn Walker and Barbara Travers received it for Division 1, Barbara is a grade six student. Academic awards went to Kathy Westcott, grade one; Willow Edwards, grade two; Jill Perry, grade three; Sandra Swann and Arthur Ralls tied in grade four; Vicky Westcott, grade five, and Jimmy and Barbara Travers, brother and sister, received the awards for grade six.

Awards for effort went to grade one girl, Karen Varley; grade two girl, Wendy Wilson; grade three girl, Megan Earl; grade four boy, Frankie Wilson; grade five boys, Alan Hopkins and David Bigelow, and grade six girl, Karen Cayn. After the students received their awards they presented a ceramic pitcher to school Principal Mr. Rice, to add to other pieces given by them on previous years. Mr. Rice replied with thanks, he also thanked all those who had donated trophies received by the students on that day.

vidual families in the Stockholm area for a week before re-grouping and returning across the North Sea to Britain. After another few days in the British Isles, they will set sail for New York and the World's Fair. Then, after a brief visit in New York City, the guides will set course for Montreal where they will say goodbyes and wend their separate ways home.

SOUVENIRS

Mrs. Reith has spent many hours in recent weeks making and collecting assorted Canadian souvenirs to distribute at the camp and to hosts along the way. For the family she will be staying in Sweden she has channelled her impressive talents with a paint brush into a painting of Brentwood Bay. She has also embroidered the flowers of each province and Canadian animals, trees and flags.

Mrs. Reith is quite determined to follow the advice of Miss E. Henrietta Osler, chief commissioner of the Girl Guides of Canada.

"Above all," said Miss Osler, "enjoy yourself."

TWO AREAS

CHILDREN are restive if they remain in one atmosphere for hours on end, trustees of Saanich School District told the public through the new school board publication, Board Business. Extended facilities are needed to overcome this monotony, readers were told.

Legislators are restive if left in the Legislative chamber too long, a Saanich secondary school teacher told trustees of Saanich School District last week. They place their feet on the desk and fail to look where they hope to be heard. They must be ignored if this restlessness is not to be permitted to extend its influence on young minds, suggested Mr. Joseph Lott.

In the meantime, if the standard of debate can be elevated in the Legislature, let us not be too critical of the stance from which an orator might deliver his address. And if the stance of the child can be improved, then let us hope that this development may one day bring into effect that improved standard of debate in the provincial house.

ELECTION

OPPORTUNITY for North Saanich representation on Saanich School District has been extended. Election of a trustee to take the place of Mr. Lewis Harvey on the board will be staged on July 31. The same day will see a second vote in the district when ratepayers will be invited to vote on incorporation.

It had earlier been planned to stage the election at the same time as the school building referendum.

Candidates have until July 21 to be nominated for election. It would be most unfortunate if the vacancy should have to be filled in any other way. From so vocal a community as North Saanich, there must be a forceful trustee for the school district.

HEAT WAVE

WHILE many a male sweltered through the near-80's of last week's burst of summer his cholerical hue was only rivalled by the cool bronze of his lightly clad womenfolk.

It is strange that the only sharp change in the fashions of the male in decades has been the Beatle jacket with its complete indifference to hot weather.

When will we learn to dress according to the weather and not to the dictates of an aging convention?

CLOUDS OF DUST

GIRL Guides from Saanich Peninsula and beyond are eligible to use the facilities of Kingswood Guide Camp at Elk Lake. The camp lies in the woods far from the busy highways of the Peninsula. A road has been driven into the heart of the forest. It is a long road, a winding road and a dusty road.

The girls live under canvas and they are away from the dust except when they walk around the camp.

The girls and their leaders would be warm in their gratitude for help in laying the dust. They have voiced no complaint. They suffer in silence and their sufferings never stop.

Clash As Budget Is Again Discussed In Council Here

If Sidney council will not sit down to discuss a new budget program, Commissioner Andrews, with him Commissioner F. S. B. Boos, asserted Comm. Taylor. Howard will explore other avenues, he told his colleagues at a council meeting last week.

On the request of Comm. Howard, Chairman A. A. Cormack had polled the council to ascertain the views of each member on proposals for a modified budget and planning program outlined in his introductory address to council by Comm. Howard.

The chairman's summary that council was prepared to consider planning but not a budget debate brought a protest from Commissioner Douglas Taylor.

Discussion of the budget is up to not against sitting down to plan,

NO RESPONSE

He had invited fellow commissioners to approach him on these proposals, but there had been "no particular response".

Comm. Taylor noted that he was

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tremblay Married 50 Years On Monday

Celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary next Monday will be Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tremblay, of 1375 McTavish Road.

They were married at St. Leon, Manitoba, on July 12, 1915 and moved to Wakaw, Saskatchewan, shortly afterwards where they resided until moving to Sidney 21 years ago.

Mrs. Tremblay, the former Lea LaBoniore, was born at St. Leon, while her husband is a native of Atkin, Minnesota. Mr. Tremblay was a steam engineer for nine years before coming to Vancouver Island, and he was employed at Patricia Bay Airport for 10 years before retiring.

The couple have six children, Melville and Anthony at Sidney; Noel, at Nanaimo; Evelyn, of Humboldt, Sask.; Robert, at Moncton, New Brunswick, and Francis, of St. John, New Brunswick, and 19 grandchildren.

To mark their golden anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Tremblay will hold an open house at their home this Sunday, July 11, from 2-6 p.m. and they have invited their many friends to join them for this occasion.

Sansa President Alan Spooner said later that there were approximately 1,200 paid admissions to the grounds for the gala affair plus another thousand or so youngsters who were admitted free. Full success of the day will be revealed at a meeting of Sansa next Tuesday.

done nothing but destroy public confidence in the village, he suggested.

"I would suggest, at my tender age, to your experience," he told Comm. Howard, "that you go slow in proposing another budget as such."

Sidney's budget was not in order under the Municipal Act, stated Comm. Howard and will not be valid until it is approved by the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council.

No discussion as to the budget's validity took place.

The day concluded with a Tropicana dance in the hall with music supplied by Fred Usher and his band. All preparations for the dance were made by Mrs. Vivian Cowan. Prizes for costumes were presented to: best couple, Mr. and Mrs. R. Bailey, buffet dinner for two at the Deep Cove Chalet; best gentleman's costume, Jim Danvers; best lady's costume, Mrs. C. Hague.

The dance with the South Seas theme drew one of the largest crowds ever seen at a dance in Sidney and was an unqualified success, said a Sansa spokesman.

It was a gay ending to a gay day.

"These things are written that you might believe..." John 20:21.

In this day when the written word is so common we sometimes lose sight of the reason behind the writing. The author of every piece of literature has a purpose. The writer of an advertisement is interested in selling the product, the editor of a paper or magazine is concerned with swaying public opinion, the author of prose or verse is interested in edifying or entertaining his reader. There is a purpose in every seriously written message.

This is written with the prayer that you might consider the Bible for it has a real message for you. The whole message of the Bible deals with God and man and their relationship. John here tells us the purpose of his writing and that is that you might believe that Jesus is the Son of God and in so believing you might have life through His Name.

Briefly the message is that we have all sinned (Rom. 3:23) but Jesus, the Son of God, died to meet the price of redemption for each of us, the just for the unjust, (1 Peter 3:18) and if we will only believe this message we shall receive forgiveness of sins and have eternal life. Do you believe in Him to the salvation of your own soul? ***

PERFECT WEATHER ADDS TO SUCCESS OF U.C.W. PARTY

Perfect summer weather added special ingredients to make the garden party held recently by the Mizpah Unit of the United Church Women, Ganges, in aid of church funds a great success.

Over 150 people attended the affair, which was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Irl Bradley, Beddis Road, in their spacious garden. The sea view and beaches added interest to various beauty spots, around which the tea tables were placed.

It was officially opened by Mrs. Michael Sober, president of Ganges U.C.W. The hostess, Mrs. Bradley and Mrs. J. D. Reid, president of Mizpah Unit, welcomed the guests. Mrs. C. W. Leggett was the convener and Mrs. E. Parsons and Mrs. J. W. Catto were in charge of the popular home cooking stall.

Strawberry shortcake and ice cream were the special features served buffet style from the tea table, by the following ladies: Mrs. H. Timbers, Mrs. G. Scarff, Mrs. S. Claibourne, Mrs. H. Holloway, Mrs. L. E. Barber, Mrs. de Macedo, Miss Olive Mouat, Miss Corbett, Miss J. Overend and others.

Also helping were the following attractive waitresses: Miss Shelly Clifford, Miss Audrey Scarff, Miss Linda Anderson and Miss Margaret Reid.

WIT'S END by WINDSOR

It is said that comparisons are odious, except, I suppose, when it comes to such pocket book items as the price or quality of the goods that we buy. Nevertheless, as a general rule it is a fairly wise maxim, but there are times when even the wisest of maxims should be broken, and in this regard I cannot help but compare the attitude of the male and the female of the species, when it comes to discussion and debate on the momentous topics of the day.

I am not in the least biased, but it is impossible not to note how men in an argument remain calm, courteous, and tolerant, and even when the other fellow is an out-and-out fool who does not agree with you, thinks wrong politically, or figures that the East will win the Grey cup, we are never uncouth enough to tell him the truth, at least in so many words. In fact, the big thing about my sex is its couthness.

CARRIED AWAY

On the other hand, the feminine half of the world, when they get into an argument, get carried away by heart or emotion and I regret, forget to be tolerant of the other viewpoint.

For instance, I was sitting out on the sundeck the other day in what might be described as a state of deep meditation, a state which my family unfortunately mistakes for sleep, when I was disturbed by a discussion, that's the polite word for it, between my wife and daughter.

"You're quite wrong, Mummie. I think the government made the right decision."

"Don't be stupid, child. It'll probably mean the end of the Commonwealth."

"Nonsense, that's just the kind of bold action that we need. I don't know why it wasn't done a year ago."

"Bold action, rubbish. I'm glad there are still some people who have the courage to speak out against it."

I had never realized before that my ladies were so interested in the great questions of the day, but it seemed to me, as an outside observer, that the matter was beginning to generate more heat than light. Maybe I could help.

"I suppose that you are discussing the uprising in the Dominican Republic?"

This was received in startled silence. Obviously I had hit the wrong trouble spot.

"Oh, I beg your pardon. You were probably talking about the role of the commonwealth peace mission in finding a solution to the Vietnam crisis."

"Daddy, what are you talking about?"

"Don't bother your father, Judy, he's had too much sun."

"Well, for pete's sake, weren't you discussing international affairs?"

"Of course we were."

Well what then?"

"Why, there's only one important issue at the moment. The Beatles and their M.B.E. I think they really deserve it, they're so cute, but Mummie can't see it. That's the trouble with you old people, you're out of touch with the times."

At about this point, when females disagree, a wise man disappears. I am writing this down at the bottom of the garden, very carefully sitting on the fence and trying to give the impression that I agree with them both.

POLITICAL PITY

We had Len Stephenson and his charming wife drop in the other evening. Len is the federal New Democratic candidate for Esquimalt-Saanich, and he was mighty worried. Not about his chances politically, but because he had been given the task of barbecuing all the salmon at a party picnic, down at Geoff Mitchell's Sea Bluff Farm.

Did my best to cheer and comfort by assuring him that the heat and smoke from the barbecue pit would be as nothing, compared to what he would run into from the political pit, once the election bell sounds.

HAZARD OF FREEWAY

Oversteering an exit is one of the hazards of freeway driving, warns the B.C. Automobile Association. Unless you pay close attention to the sign, you can easily miss your turn-off point and be compelled to drive miles out of your way. So, watch the signs and stay in the right-hand lane. Be ready to turn off at the proper time. Never, advises the BCAA, attempt to stop and turn back up for a missed exit.

FULFORD SALMON DERBY ON AUGUST 1

Meeting of the Fulford Salmon Derby members was held at the home of Captain Edward Lacy last week. The members have decided to hold the annual salmon derby on August 1 instead of the Labor Day weekend, which is usually stormy. It is hoped by this to have better catches and better weather.

AVOID IT!

Motorists should avoid lane-straddling and lane-weaving, says the B.C. Automobile Association. If you have to move from one lane to another, first make sure you can do so without endangering others.

YACHT RACE STARTS AT WHALERS BAY

Whalers Bay, Galiano Island, was gay on Thursday evening, July 2, when more than 100 yachts gathered to await the long-distance race across the Gulf of Georgia 28 miles to Passage Island and then to West Vancouver.

Boats began drifting in early in the day, and by evening most of them had arrived. Registration facilities and a Canadian Customs official were in the bay for the convenience of those to register for the three-day 1965 P.I.Y.A. Regatta.

The race began in glorious sunshine and a brisk wind at 10 a.m. on Sunday when it was a memorable sight to see all of the large and small craft with their many-colored sails jockeying for position. They were within sight of Islanders for quite a long time in their unclouded view of the Gulf.

Miss Robson sat in the chair of honor, with a white bell above her head, and streamers from the ceiling to the chair. Gifts were presented on a coffee table gaily ringing with wedding bells. Several games were played, and coffee and tea was served by the hostess and friends. Corsages were presented to the bride and her mother, Mrs. F. E. Robson.

POWER FAILURE ON GALIANO

Power went off on Galiano Island at 3.30 p.m. Saturday and the most serious result of the failure was that the water pumps were rendered useless.

Galileo Lodge was soon out of water, with the immediate prospect of more than 80 people expected for the smorgasbord at 6 p.m. Fortunately, the lodge is equipped with rockers stoves, so the cooking was uninterrupted.

Guests responded wonderfully to the plea to "Use no water, folks, the power's off!" Mrs. Allen Clarke went calmly about preparing for the crowd, and just as the first of 88 people were sitting down at 6.30, on came the necessary power.

You think your old fridge is "good enough"? Wait till you see today's big beauties. They're about 40% larger on the inside (hardly any bigger outside, thanks to new thin-wall construction). And the extra space is nicely distributed. Shelf storage is more flexible and there's extra height in the door area for tall bottles. Many models have pull-out, adjustable or revolving shelves. The freezer area holds more frozen foods, too. And it's colder. Keeps ice cream firm, freezes other foods fast. Defrosting? Forget it. The new refrigerators are either frost-free or self-defrosting. Some even have automatic ice cube makers. Still think you're happy with the old box? Fine. But don't dare go near your appliance dealer's. Especially now when he's offering such attractive values.

GOAT BREEDERS REVIEW BUSY MONTH AS MEMBERS ARE SUCCESSFUL IN 4-H MEETS

The month of June proved to be very busy for the 21 members of the Saanich 4-H Goat Club. It began with the regular meeting held on the first Saturday afternoon in June in the 4-H Building at the Saanichton Fair grounds. Two of the club's junior leaders, Rose Smart and Margaret Lord, gave the younger members lessons in the judging of kid and yearling goats. Members received their ribbons and prize cheques they had won at the Jaycee Fair in May. Jean Money was congratulated for having won green rosette ribbons for being the grand champion of the club at the Jaycee Fair in showmanship, judging, and stand-in-the-ring classes. Jean was also congratulated for being the second member in the club to receive the much coveted 4-H honor pin. Less than two dozen members in the whole of B.C. have as yet attained this distinction.

On June 12, 12 members, accompanied by the club's three assistant leaders, Mrs. E. Smart, Mrs. T. Gurr and K. R. Beckett, attended the Lower Mainland Kid and Yearling Goat Show which was held this year at Ladner, and all of the 12 members came home with either a first, second or third ribbon.

At the start of this show the Saanich group competed with the Cloverdale 4-H Goatkeepers in kid-calling and showmanship contests and won top honors in each.

TWO CHAMPIONS
In showmanship Jean Money was the senior champion and Kathryn Logan was the junior champion. In the kid calling classes Rose Smart was first in the seniors and Terry Beckett won top honors in the juniors.

To enter in the open competitions the members took nine yearlings and nine kid goats and 16 of the 13 goats won either blue, red, or white ribbon. There were over 100 entries, mostly from adult goat keepers from the mainland. In the yearling class the grand championship was awarded to a Toggenberg owned and raised by the club leader, Mrs. C. Maule, but which was shown by one of the club members, Bob Bailey. The grand championship in the kid goat classes went to a Saanen kid owned and raised by Mrs. Vera Hamilton, editor of the Canadian Dairy Goat News, who lives at Langley.

On June 23 the club held a beach party at Beaver Lake which was followed by a work bee at the 4-H Building at the Saanichton fair grounds to get the hall and grounds ready for the Vancouver Island Kid and Yearling Show, held at the 4-H Building at Saanichton on June 26.

At this show the special guest was John Landon, head of the Extension Branch, B.C. Department of Agriculture.

Mr. Landon opened the show, brought greetings from the department, welcomed the Cloverdale 4-H Goat Club and their leaders, and presented the ribbons to the winners in the various classes throughout the 4-H part of the show.

At Saanichton the Cloverdale 4-H members were truly alert and resolved not to be beaten a second time by Saanich—in showmanship the junior champion was Lanche Hamilton, and the senior champion

At the close of the 4-H part of the show, the Lower Vancouver Island adult goat society served a luncheon in the hall of the Saanichton 4-H Building which ended with a beautiful cake in 4-H colors to congratulate two Saanich 4-H Goat Club members who have been chosen among the top 11 4-H members to represent the Duncan area at Provincial 4-H Youth Week at New Denver, July 12 to 17. At the same time Kathryn Logan, the club's president, gave to these two winners—Jean Money and Margaret Lord, gifts of congratulation from the Saanich 4-H Goat Club. Jan Lloyd from the Cloverdale 4-H Goat Club was congratulated for having won a trip to Manitoba.

LEGISLATION MAY COME SOON

Representative Meeting Launches Capital Region "Mini-Metro" Board

Municipal Affairs Minister D. R. G. Campbell presented joint services board principles and intentions to a fully representative assembly of civic leaders and senior officials at Holyrood House last Thursday.

He was supported by the deputy minister, J. Everett Brown, and J. E. Baird, inspector of municipalities, each of whom gave a preliminary explanation of the purpose and scope of the proposed regional board.

Mr. Campbell followed with detailed recommendations, and threw open the meeting for questions from the floor. He had made it perfectly plain that legislation to establish the board is imminent and may even be implemented within a few months.

CRITICIZED

General principles were well received by municipal leaders, but the inclusion of regional hospitals among its first responsibilities was strongly criticized by several speakers.

The minister has accurately sensed the prevailing opinion, for later in the week it was announced that hospital control has been withdrawn from the scope of the board's activities.

As outlined by Mr. Campbell, the board will administer the following functions in the first instance:

- Regional and community planning, including the entire field of zoning, building and sub-division regulation in the electoral areas. He said afterwards that the provincial government will put up 10 cents per capita in respect of unorganized territories. Costs will be apportioned on a per capita basis in the case of the municipalities.

- Disposal of sewage; to the extent that the board would receive the report of the sewer survey now in progress in the capital region.

"We don't know the answer to this question," said Mr. Campbell, "but it should become a function of the board."

Cost sharing would be according to agreement that was reached, and unorganized areas contributing only if they make use of the findings of the survey.

Electoral district of Sooke is excluded for topographical reasons.

- Regional Parks. All municipalities excepting Esquimalt have agreed to initial half-mill contribution for acquisition of parklands.

Reeve Wurtele explained that if it is purely a question of acquisition his council would probably fall into line. What is objected is possible continuing development and maintenance cost being charged to municipalities, said the reeve.

- The board may also act in a regulatory capacity within the proposed regional district.

"This functional vehicle", as Mr. Campbell described mini-metro, "is on the road and ready to go. We have now to decide the color of the gas and how much to put in the tank."

"It must not have too much fuel at the outset or it may get out of control and run up a telephone pole," he warned.

He explained that individual municipalities may decide which particular functions they choose to delegate to the regional board.

"This is an open-ended vehicle," he declared.

"Does that mean that municipalities may go in and come out if they wish?" queried hospital commission chairman Joseph Casey.

"No! Open-ended as regards functions and the identification of particular problems," answered the minister.

HE WAS SURPRISED

Mayor Wilson gave qualified approval of the concept, but was surprised at the inclusion of hospitals.

"That seems to me to be filling the tank to overflowing," he remarked. He wondered what other matters could creep in through the back door.

"The back door is the same as the front door. Either you open it or you don't," replied Mr. Campbell.

Underlying fears that the proposals cover a threat of enforced amalgamations were answered quite frankly by Mr. Campbell.

"The government does not permit the destruction of existing communities, or wish for a series of amalgamations," he declared.

"Votes may be taken to ascertain the wishes of the ratepayers, but I hope that municipal councils will show some leadership and themselves make the decision to try out this machinery," he added.

Saanich Reeve Hugh Curtis said, "My initial reaction is that regional planning and the sewer study will perhaps meet with approval. Parks have already been agreed."

"The people of the region may be well advised to pursue the serious question of health services," he commented.

The reeve advised, "Whether it be the front or the back door, my council would like to see it securely locked, or there is no telling how far you will be going into the house."

Chairman of Brentwood Water District, Victor Dawson, said that sewage and water problems are closely linked.

He warned that he had been "shut down" 10 years ago by "The Review" and others when he had maintained that there would be water problems.

Pointing to evidence of present and potential water shortage, he said that there will be request from Saanich Peninsula for a private member's bill unless the government is farseeing enough to promote a Peninsula water board.

"That is not contradictory to what we propose, but we should not go 60 miles an hour until we see how the machine works," answered Mr. Campbell.

OVER-EMPHASIS

To suggestions that council representatives on the new board would need to be supermen in order to discharge their multi duties, the minister replied, "this has been greatly over-emphasized."

"Representatives would take the viewpoint of their respective councils. Those representing electoral areas have in some way the most difficult task, not having the benefit of the advice of fellow councillors," he declared.

Board members will be appointed from Victoria, Saanich, Oak Bay, Esquimalt, Central Saanich, Sidney, and the unorganized areas of Colwood, Langford, Metcheson, North Saanich, Sooke and View Royal.

Mr. Campbell was confident that two of the areas would be organized very shortly.

Voting rights on the board would be in the proportion of one vote for each 5,000 population block or part thereof, said Mr. Brown in his preliminary explanation. Population of 26,000 would therefore allow six votes. Municipality of this population would have two board members, each having three votes.

Functions of the regional board will be precisely defined by letters patent agreed by the several municipal and regional members. In the event of any disagreement any member area may appeal to the inspector of municipalities on a particular decision.

"If it is decided that it is against best interests the inspector may report to the Lieutenant-Governor-in-Council who may make a binding decision," explained Mr. Brown.

HON. D. R. G. CAMPBELL

The deputy minister was not prepared to discuss the capital region specifically. He preferred to cite mainland and upper Vancouver Island regional areas when making points to illustrate the proposals.

He was questioned closely in the matter of hospitals.

"Will the board decide where future hospitals will be built?" asked Sidney Village Commission Chairman A. A. Cormack.

"I cannot answer that question," replied Mr. Brown.

"I think you are wrong in trying to include hospitals," declared Joseph Casey.

No Bus Service To Hospital

Franchise considerations would not permit B.C. Hydro and Power Authority to extend the Glanford or Quadra bus services to Royal Oak Memorial Hospital, Saanich lands and planning committee was informed last Tuesday.

Representations had been forwarded to the authority following suggestions that the facility would be of great service to hospital visitors. It was remarked that the appropriate franchise is held by Vancouver Islands Coach Lines.

Children's Village Rescued By Campaign Contributions

Story of the rescue of the Children's International Village project was told to Saanich finance committee recently by Mrs. Fraser, chairman of the new committee that was formed when the July arrangements threatened to collapse for lack of funds.

Venue of the event has been changed from Mill Bay to Strathcona school for girls, Shawnigan Lake, and the entertainment of eight delegations from foreign countries is now assured, said Mrs. Fraser. Funds amounting to $6,293 have been collected, including municipal grants from Victoria, $300; Oak Bay, $250; Esquimalt, $125; Central Saanich, $50, and Sidney, $50. Saanich contribution of $250 was voted.

"The new committee is to be congratulated for salvaging the Village from almost certain death," said Reeve Hugh Curtis.

of the Assumption Church at West Saanich and the wedding music was played by Michael Baker. Bishop Remi De Roo gave the blessing.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor-length dress of taffeta with lace and net over a full skirt and lily-point sleeves, shoulder length veil and carried a bouquet of red baby roses.

Her only attendant was her sister-in-law, Mrs. Charles Elliott, Cowichan Bay, who wore a gown of pink nylon chiffon and carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Best man was Edward Paul, nephew of the groom and ushers were David Elliott, brother of the bride and David Paul, nephew of the groom.

Reception at the Legion Hall, Mills Road, Sidney, followed the ceremony and Father Mudge proposed the toast to the bride. A few remarks were made by Chief Edwin Underwood of the Tsout Reserve, East Saanich.

For a honeymoon spent on the mainland and Bellingham, Wash., the bride wore a pink suit with black accessories. On their return they will reside at 7843 East Saanich Road.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bob, Nanaimo; Mr. and Mrs. Ross R. Modeste and Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Bartleman, Duncan; Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Louie, Ladysmith; Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Lozar, Mission City; and Miss Hannah Gabriel, Steveston, B.C.

Our mountains get higher and higher

In a year, the average Canadian family uses a mountain of paper products. More than 300 pounds per person — every kind of paper product Crown Zellerbach makes.

Because that paper products mountain gets higher every year, it is more important than ever to be efficient in the use of our forest resources. That's why Crown Zellerbach has pioneered many wood utilization processes, such as making use of sawdust in the manufacture of pulp.

This better utilization of the forest crop means greater production from available timber. Even more important, it helps meet the ever-increasing need for forest products without over-cutting forest resources: a balance that Crown Zellerbach carefully and purposely plans.

ever, a small bundle of dark, cheap blankets. On the floor lay a small yellow plastic bucket. There was nothing else in this metal box; the only light came through a thick glass cover in the outer cell.

cell there was a modern flush toilet, and a small basin that had one hidden water faucet; there were also two wooden chairs.

At 9 p.m. a R.C.M.P. constable unlocked the door, entered, and informed me that I would have to go into the metal box for the night; the door of this compartment was then locked on me.

Having survived various boarding schools in England, the depression years, and seven years in the Royal Navy, the night did not have any adverse affect upon my mind or body, in spite of the fact that I did not have access to water or wash-room facilities until 8.20 the following morning.

LEISURELY

During the night I was regaled by a variety of noises from nearby rooms, principally the metallic sounds of the radio intercom between police cars and office, the hammering on a typewriter, and the visits by the staff to washroom; each individual sound was most plainly audible.

Each half hour, an officer would walk along the corridor, look through a hole in the outer door across the room to my bunk which he could observe through the bars.

SMALL COMFORT

At 8.20 I was able to wash my hands and face; I had to keep my outer clothing on during the night as a protection against the steel mesh, as a couple of thin blankets provided small comfort.

Cpl. Williams brought me a small thermos of coffee, two rounds of toast, and two eggs. I drank the coffee, but could not eat as I had indigestion.

MUG SHOTS

On my way out to the R.C.M.P. car, I looked at the notice board on which were displayed a number of mug shots of wanted criminals who are now on the loose; one was of Rivard, I said to Cpl. Williams—how is it that Rivard could escape, yet I, for a $5 fine was held under maximum security with no privileges? No answer.

We proceeded to Rest Haven Hospital where I received a medical examination. The doctor on duty asked as to how I felt. I replied that apart from a little stiffness, I felt in good shape.

RELEASED EARLY

Cpl. Williams and myself arrived at Wilkinson Prison at 11 a.m. After going through the preliminaries I was booked in for the remaining two days—June 30 and July 1. The head receptionist explained to Cpl. Williams that prisoners are not released on Sundays, or public holidays; prisoners are always released the preceding day under those circumstances.

Luncheon was served to me in a private hospital ward, bars at door and window. At 2.40 p.m. a prison officer appeared at the door and inquired as to whether I would like a lift into town; I replied that my bag was already packed.

THUMBED RIDE

I was dropped off at the corner of Wilkinson and Interurban, and thumbed a lift into Brentwood. The couple that gave me a lift to my door turned out to be the parents of one of the boys that had burgled

WITNESSES GATHER IN VICTORIA

Ralph Reeves, presiding minister of the Sidney congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, reports that the convention in Victoria, July 1 to 4 and attended by local delegates, was an outstanding success.

Daily attendance was greater than anticipated, and reached a peak of 5,654 on Sunday. However, of greater interest was the benefit of the faith-inspiring information on the Bible, said Mr. Reeves.

On the first day, archaeological information was presented which supports the Bible's authenticity.

BIBLE FAMILIES

The second day the lecture, "The Bible's Place in the Modern Home", showed how homes with "family Bibles" should be replaced with "Bible families". Also an evidence of the effectiveness of the home Bible study activity of Jehovah's Witnesses, 105 new ministers were baptized.

The third day featured the value of the Bible in avoiding the moral decline, both in adults and children, Mr. Reeves reported. Government reports for British Columbia for 1963 reveal that one out of 12 babies born were from illegitimate unions, and 20 children, aged 10 to 14, contracted V.D. that year. There are an estimated 25,000 practicing homosexuals in Vancouver city. Christian morality precludes all such conduct and it thereby protects its adherents from the grim findings of immorality, said the Sidney man.

WORLD GOVERNMENT

The fourth day stressed, "Applying the Word of Truth to the Problems of Life". The feature lecture, "World Government On the Shoulder of the Prince of Peace", was delivered by R. W. Arnett, of Toronto. It showed how the problem of world government will soon be solved by the Bible's promises of a righteous new system of things being fulfilled in this generation.

Two new publications were released: "Make Sure of All things: Hold Fast to What Is True", which is a handbook for giving on-the-spot answers to Bible questions in the ministry; and "Things in Which It Is Impossible for God to Lie", a new book for building faith in God for use in home Bible study.

Some of the local congregation will be going to Vernon, B.C., where the assembly program will be repeated July 8 to 11, Mr. Reeves said.

Champion Air Cadet Team

Cadets of Sidney's 676 R.C.A.C. Squadron have chalked up a fine record of marksmanship. Here are the champions.

our home on June 19; whilst my wife and self were shopping. I would conclude by stating that I felt that I had to stick to my guns in this matter, because I was most definitely held up for money.

On the night of May 12, I was proceeding home at a leisurely speed from Sidney to Brentwood via McTavish Road. I stopped at all stop signs on the way. The sodium lights on Patricia Bay Highway at McTavish gave off excellent lighting on a clear dark night such as that of May 12. I could see clearly both ways at Canora; there was no R.C.M.P. car there in the position as stated by Constable Ericson in court. No vehicle of any description followed me up McTavish as far as East Saanich.

Constable Ericson stopped me 200 yards west of East Saanich, three-quarters of a mile from the Canora stop sign. If this police officer had his car located in the position which he stated in court he could most easily have stopped me before I had proceeded half way from Canora to East Saanich.

WRONG ADDRESS

When making out the ticket Constable Ericson put down my address as being in Sidney, in spite of the fact that he held my driving licence in his hand with my correct address plainly visible.

I appeared in Mr. Ashby's court on the afternoon of May 15, and pleaded not guilty. Having pointed out the discrepancies in the evidence given by the two R.C.M.P. officers, also the fact that I did not agree with their statements with regard to their movements at the time of the alleged offence, Mr. Ashby told me that this was not important as the facts had been established. When I pointed out to Mr. Ashby that I had an excellent driving record dating back to 1927, Mr. Ashby retorted: that he had been driving for a longer period.

"THAT WOMAN"

"When I informed Mr. Ashby that a police car could not remain out of sight 100 yards from the Canora stop sign, he replied that in his opinion it was possible. Mr. Ashby referred to my wife as "THAT WOMAN". Young hoodlums, admittedly repeaters, were addressed by their first names. A lengthy afternoon reaped a rich harvest in fines and costs.

I gathered the impression at the end of the day that, none were to escape the net, guilty or otherwise. Prosecuting witnesses were R.C.M.P. officers. The prosecutor was an R.C.M.P. officer. The magistrate was an ex-R.C.M.P. officer; the rest were also rans.

My case was not concluded until June 30, because Mr. Ashby was on holiday in England.

RIGHT THING

At this time I feel that I did the right thing because a measure of publicity has been given; the kind which I feel certain will afford some protection to the average conscientious motorist going about his lawful business, and obeying all of the rules of the road to the best of his ability.

FORMER PASTOR RETURNS AFTER LONG TERM OF STUDY

Back from Europe with a doctorate in theology is Rev. Philip Hanley, former pastor of the Saanich Peninsula Catholic Churches. Fr. Hanley came to the West Saanich Road rectory this week after a two-year absence.

It is nearly two years since the former parish priest left for Belgium. He studied for a year there before leaving for Rome to spend another year of study in order to gain his doctorate. In Ottawa, he gained his master's degree during his two-year stint of classroom duty.

In his absence Fr. Hanley was succeeded by Fr. Hanley here, when his brother, also a priest, assumed the reins of the parish he had left. Family confusion of the two Frs. Hanley will persist as Fr. Hanley takes a holiday next week, leaving Fr. Hanley to relieve him.

Rev. Bernard Hanley has been parish priest for nearly a year.

Comfrey Plays Important Role In Cure Of Sickness

Leaf plant under cultivation on Saanich Peninsula has a very significant role in the cure and prevention of sickness. Martin Woodford, of the Henry Doubleday Foundation, reports that experiments in Japan have revealed characteristics of comfrey once known to the Greeks 2,000 years ago.

President of the Henry Doubleday Research Association discovered vitamin B12 in the plant. It is the only plant known to store this vitamin which creates red blood corpuscles. The association also noted that comfrey contains allantoin, the factor which increases white blood corpuscles.

Mr. Woodford, of Sidney Seaweed Products, is carrying out extensive investigation of comfrey as a substitute for tobacco. It is already widely used in Japan, where a "Comfrey Centre" was established a number of years ago and where its medicinal value is under extensive enquiry.

It was just one of those things!

At least, that is what officials of Sidney and North Saanich Community Hall Association thought last week. Gate prize for a helicopter ride for two on July 1 met with an unexpected hitch — the whirlybird was sold!

Two lucky ticket holders were to be taken for a flip in a 'copter by Jim Madden of Morrison Rotors Ltd., of Victoria. But the winners of the flight, who have not yet been identified, will not be disappointed. The flight will be re-scheduled as soon as another helicopter is available.

By-Election For School Trustee

By-election for school trustee for North Saanich will be held on July 31, at the same time as the referendum on incorporation.

The by-election is called to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Lewis Harvey.

Installation Ceremony For Elks

Exalted Ruler G. D. Frizzell is formally installed at the head of Sidney Elks Lodge by Claude Howard, district deputy. The ceremony took place recently in the Legion Hall on Mills Road. Standing behind Mr. Frizzell is D. N. Crowe, district deputy elect from Nanaimo. Behind Mr. Howard is Gary Hudson of Sidney. In colorful dress in the background is a member of the Port Alberni drill team which attended to formalize the ceremony. Team was very warmly hailed for its services.

Nominations will close on Monday, July 21 at the school board office in Sidney. Returning officer is A. G. Blair.

An election appears likely in view of some interest shown in the by-election.

Mr. Harvey resigned last month in protest against the forthcoming building by-law.

Multiple Purpose Auditorium

Trustees of Saanich School District have clarified the meaning of a confusing name. In the first edition of the board's bulletin, "Board Business", there appears a new explanation of the term, Activity Room.

"They are actually multiple purpose teaching and training areas," states the bulletin. "They provide space for lunch rooms, for educational films, for group lectures and assemblies for music and rhythm exercises . . . they will, in fact be used for most of each day by one class or another."

Its old name was, in fact, auditorium.

TEA SUCCESS AT PENDER

Annual strawberry tea at Pender Island was quite successful.

The affair was held at the Glade and guests were greeted by Miss Meta Hall. Hostess was Miss Olive Auchterlonie. Featured were a wishing well and baking stall presided over by Mrs. Fred Smith and Miss Auchterlonie.

OFFICERS INSTALLED

D. W. Ruffle Heads Local Rotarians For Coming Year

On Wednesday, June 30, Past District Governor Jack Cruise, was a guest of the Sidney Rotary Club to install the officers for the forthcoming year.

In his address Dr. Cruise recalled how Rotary was founded, and how over the years the spirit of service flowed ever more strongly in the veins of Rotarians. He emphasized the unity of purpose which was condensed in a single piece of paper—the club constitution. This one document is the guide-line for 12,000 clubs in 128 countries, he said.

NEW EXECUTIVE

New officers installed by the past district governor were: president, Don Ruffle; vice-president, John Bruce; secretary, Archie Camelford; treasurer, Don Smith; sergeant-at-arms, George Hafer; directors, Jack Crossley, Percy Lazarz, Alan Spooner, Art Freeman.

Retiring president Fred Derry was presented with the past president's pin and received a standing ovation. Bouquets were presented to Rotary Anns Doreen Ruffle and Emily Derry.

Dr. Cruise reported that Alan Spooner had been appointed to serve as the district governor's personal representative in the southern part of Vancouver Island, bringing distinction upon himself and special honor to the Sidney Rotary Club.

Tightly Knit

Sidney and North Saanich Volunteer Fire Department is indivisible. Last week members of the fire committee explained that the bulk of Sidney fire hall is on property owned by Sidney village.

The ambulance bay, an integral part of the hall, stands on property owned jointly by Sidney and North Saanich. Rolling stock is the property of North Saanich.

Original allocation of ownership was engineered to avoid ready splitting up of the department, trustees were told.

While majority of the volunteer firemen are from Sidney, five are from North Saanich.

COLLEGE IS DEBATED

has obligations requiring him to support the elementary and secondary education, said Mr. McLellan, and demands are being made upon him (the taxpayer) for voluntary contributions to the three universities of the province.

The superintendent further noted that Saanich already has operating a part of a regional college by way of grade 13 at Claremont, and will augment this in the near future with a vocational wing.

SERVE A PURPOSE

"In other areas of the province remote from the three universities, regional colleges may serve a purpose," said Mr. McLellan. "Prince George, Kamloops, Kelowna, Nelson, Dawson Creek perhaps could all justify the establishment of regional colleges. However, one wonders what a regional college could do for this area that cannot be done by Victoria University and grade 13."

Mr. McLellan said a regional college is being pressed by the Sooke district which has approximately 18 eligible students at present. Saanich has about 50 grade 13 students now and Victoria has some 80 grade 13 students who attend classes from 4-10 p.m.

GRADE 13 POPULAR

Mr. Lott told the board that there is a rapidly growing demand for grade 13.

"We have turned down 70 applications from Victoria so far this year," he said, "and there were over 120 last year that we couldn't take."

Grade 13 class at Claremont earlier accepted students from outside the Saanich district, but with an increased demand from within the district it has been necessary to restrict the class to residents of District 63.

Mr. Lott wondered how the proposed regional college would be staffed.

"We can't staff our high schools so I don't know where the staff for a regional college would come from," he said.

The Claremont principal said he thinks it more advantageous to "get the vocational school off the ground and enlarge the grade 12 classes."

NOT IN FAVOR

Motion introduced by Trustee Mrs. E. P. Thomas that the board is not in favor of a regional college "at this time" was seconded by Trustee C. M. Brown and narrowly approved with Chairman Gordon Campbell casting an affirmative vote. Trustees Alec Porteous and Mrs. Nora Lindsay abstained from voting, contending that they would not vote on something they do not fully understand.

"It would do no harm to look into it," said Mrs. Lindsay.

MORE INFORMATION

Saanich trustees are hoping to gain a better understanding of the role of a regional college at a meeting of the three lower-island school boards on July 15. Dr. J. F. K. English, deputy minister of education, is expected to explain the functions of such a college.
